Master plan for new look to the seafront

Celebrating 30 years of twinning

SEATON has been celebrating 30 years of twinning with the French town of Thury-Harcourt. On a recent visit to Normandy, Seaton and District Twinning Association chairman Clare Jones presented a mounted Ichthyosaurus fossil from Lyme Bay to Thury-Harcourt mayor, M. Paul Chandelier. See page 4

SEATON Town Council has been appointed as lead authority for a project to draw up a master plan for the seafront and parts of The Esplanade and Marine Place.

Those involved with the project say that a new design for the seafront will "help to confirm Seaton's place as an attractive sea-side resort".

The town council was asked by East Devon District Council (DCC) and Seaton Regeneration Board to lead the project.

Seaton Town Council accepted the challenge and is looking to commission a facilitator to lead the council through the early stages of the work.

Councillor Heather Sanham welcomed the project and said: "It is vital for the town council to commission someone to carry out the early stages of this project so that we can show that we are willing to take up a major challenge."

Focal point

A press bulletin from the town council said: "The project goes back as far as 1996 to a report regarding the benefits of closure of part of the Esplanade and Marine Place.

"Whilst this report was welcomed, for many reasons, the hard work was not followed up at that time."

"The Esplanade and Marine Place are often the focal point for major community activities such as the recent Jubilee Barbecue and the forthcoming Air Ambulance Day.

"It is the connecting point between the sea and the town centre and is ripe for enhancement to become a major attraction for the town to provide a better venue for these events.

"Seaton Town Council has budgeted £10,000 for this work and £10,000 for pedestrianisation of part of The Esplanade and Marine Place.

"EDDC is also willing to contribute £10,000 towards the cost of achieving a master plan if progress can be made speedily."

The town council is inviting

Firefighters free seagull from net

FIREFIGHTERS were called by the RSPCA to free a seagull trapped in netting at Jubilee Lodge, The Underfleet, Seaton just after 10am on Saturday. A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The RSPCA attended the incident and discovered that a seagull was trapped in netting two storeys up, and so called the brigade for assistance to rescue the trapped bird.

"The crew rescued the trapped bird and duty of care was then handed back to the RSPCA representative."

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

OTTERY ST MARY: Primary School pupil Erin Clarke, 10, has landed a major role in the BBC children's television series, "Dick and Dom Hooplal" as a mischievous clown

HONITON: Former Honiton resident, Alan Toothill, a writer now based in Italy, has pledged to donate all the UK income from his crime books to the proposed Beehive community centre.

AXMINSTER: Mike and Lucy Stead took part in the Channel 5 TV programme, "The Restaurant Inspector", screened last week, and now intend to return to the restaurant with a group of friends.

SIDMOUTH: Sidmouth Golf Club assistant pro Kevin Harper came second in the Powerade PGA assistants' championship at East Sussex National golf course, having led for two days.

Quotes of the week...

“THE committee were heavy hearted, as they considered all the possibilities, but felt, due to the deluge of rainfall from the previous night, and the excessive rainfall that morning, which was preventing the exhibitors entering the showground and the tractors which had already been deployed to start towing vehicles on and off the show ground, this was the only sensible decision”

Tigers to rebuild youth team structure

AXMINSTER Town Football Club are in the process of rebuilding their youth section.

The Tigers had just one established youth side last season but have plans in place to increase this to four.

Club chairman Ray Self, alongside youth development officer Micky Walsh, will be running an under 18s team that will be playing friendly floodlit matches on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Self said: "Micky has contacts within the local football scene that we hope will allow us to play against the academy teams from the likes of Torquay United and Tiverton Town."

AXMINSTER

Rain washes out festival

AXMINSTER'S event calendar suffered a massive blow when two festivals were cancelled because of bad weather.

Axe Vale Festival, one of the biggest and most popular one-day shows in Devon, should have been held last weekend at the showground on the outskirts of town, but organisers decided to cancel the event at a full committee meeting at mid-day on Thursday after a deluge of rain earlier in the week.

The festival, launched in 1994, has raised a total of nearly £300,000 for the Flamingo Pool and other worthy causes over the years, and had never been cancelled before.

Festival chairman Claire Morgan, new to the job this year, said: "The committee decided by a large majority and with great sadness, that the 18th Axe Vale Festival was to be cancelled.

"The committee were heavy hearted, as they considered all the possibilities, but felt, due to the deluge of rainfall from the previous night, and the excessive rainfall that morning, which was preventing the exhibitors entering the showground and the tractors which had already been deployed to start towing vehicles on and off the show ground, this was the only sensible decision.

COLYTON

Record profit

COLYTON TRACTOR RUN proved a financial success, with a record total of more than £3,300 raised for worthy causes.

Members of the organising committee described contributions as "tremendous", with the street collection alone bringing in some £500 more than last year.

The event was held on Bank Holiday Monday, June 4th, and featured the maximum amount of entries, 120, many decorated in a patriotic theme to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Organising committee member Ann Veit said: "It was our best year ever, with so many wow factors.

"Despite the gloomy economic climate the street collection was tremendous, going from £842 last year to a whopping £1,363 this year.

"The best news of all is that £3,000 will be shared between the two main beneficiaries, Clc Sargent and The Children's Hospice South West."

From the editor's chair Happy days here again

IS SUMMER here at last? The question asked in this column last week clearly tempted fate and the inevitable happened when you try to predict the British weather: it teemed down and resulted in the cancellation for the first time of the Axe Vale Festival.

I should have known better and offer a profound apology in my Editor at Large column on page 18.

Our pages would have been filled of shots of festivalgoers enjoying one of Devon's most popular show so not quite so many smiling faces in this week's edition.

Pulman's View prides itself on being a real community paper, recording the day-to-day happenings of the various towns and villages across East Devon.

Much of what we report doesn't see the light of day elsewhere but in an age when all the bad news in the world - and there's enough of that - can be beamed into your front room or onto your laptop, iPad or iPhone within 20 seconds of some war or disaster breaking out, we believe it is important that we never lose sight of what is happening at the end of your road.

As I tell my young reporters, it doesn't get more parish pump than reporting in Pulman's Country.

Some of them, I am delighted to say, move on to more exciting careers, as indeed I did for a few years. But they never forget where they stood on the first rung of their journalistic ladder.

Last week I managed to get together with two reporters who worked for me in the 1970s and who went on to achieve great things. Geoff Baker, after flirting with Fleet Street, became Paul McCartney's PR for 15 years, and Mark Hollands became a top media figure in Australia.

With Mark returning to Sidmouth to look up family and friends, we got together over dinner to chew the fat about the old times.

Happy days.

Ex-councillor dies from stab wound

A PROMINENT Honiton business figure and former town councillor has died following a suspected stabbing.

Businessman Michael Bithrey died from the stab wound he sustained while in Bridgwater, Somerset, a post mortem has revealed.

The 72-year-old grandfather died shortly after being airlifted to Musgrove Park Hospital in Taunton, following the 'altercation' at around 11am on Thursday, June 21st.

An 83-year-old man has been arrested on suspicion of his murder.

Mr Bithrey was married with four children. He owned Bithrey Holdings, based in Bithrey House, King Street, Honiton.

A spokesperson for Avon and Somerset Police said: "We can confirm the identity of the man who was stabbed in an incident in Bridgwater last week as 72-year-old Michael Bithrey.

"A man, aged 83, arrested on suspicion of murder, remains under police supervision."

In a previous statement issued shortly after the incident, the spokesperson said: "Police have confirmed the death of a man following an incident in Bridgwater is being treated as murder.

"A man in his 70s died following an altercation with another man on Thursday morning in the Chilton Street area of the town at about 10.50am.

"The injured man was taken by air ambulance to Taunton's Musgrove Park Hospital but he died later.

SIDMOUTH

Councillors to speak as one...

THE SEVEN district councillors serving Sidmouth wards have joined forces to promote a united strategy on four hot topics in the town.

Councillors Chris Wale, Christine Drew, Stuart Hughes, Graham Troman, Sheila Kerridge, Peter Sullivan and Frances Newth say they decided to get together in response to discussions, comments and statements regarding the Drill Hall, Knowle, employment land and housing provision.

A statement issued on Wednesday, June 20th explained: "Firstly, we would like to reassure everyone we have listened, consulted and taken on board the numerous comments since calling the East Devon District Council meeting at Stowford Community Centre, the annual town council assembly and the special extraordinary town council meeting held at EDDC recently.

"Our view is a united one and we have separated each of the following responses for clarity."

One burning issue is EDDC's proposed move from Sidmouth to Honiton.

The seven Conservative councillors said: "If EDDC decides to relocate, we would seek to secure a continued EDDC presence within our town such as a one-stop shop and additional services, which could be utilised for the benefit of residents. This would be sought as part of the bargaining process."

OTTERY ST MARY

AN OTTERY St Mary girl has landed a major role in a BBC children's television series.

Ottery St Mary Primary School pupil, Erin Clarke is to take on the role of a mischievous clown in a series named Dick and Dom Hoopla, led by the famous children's duo for CBBC.

Always interested in acting, 10-year-old Erin has been part of local acting group - Stagecoach Theatre Arts School in Honiton - since she was five years old and has always enjoyed singing, dancing and acting.

Supported by her parents, younger brother Freddie and younger sister Lyla, Erin has been working hard for a number of years to achieve her dream.

Town celebrates its 30-year twinning

SEATON has been twinned with Thury-Harcourt in Normandy for 30 years and this landmark was celebrated when 37 members of the Seaton and District Twinning Association visited their French twin town earlier this month.

During the time there, the group visited Pegasus Bridge made famous as the site of the first action in the D-day landings when it was secured by glider-borne troops minutes after midnight on June 6th 1944.

Association member Fergus Holmes led the party across the bridge playing bagpipes and recalling the incident portrayed in the film The Longest Day.

Other visits included those to the fashionable seaside town of Cabourg, famous for its connections with the writer Proust, and to the gardens of the Chateau of Canon, notable for its series of walled gardens, at Mezidon-Canon.

Other time was spent with individual hosts on a variety of activities enabling members to enjoy particular interests whether it be renewing old friendships, sampling the famed French cuisine, or pursuing personal interests such as history, horticulture or simply exploring.

Included in the party were some members of the Axe Valley Pedallers and the French hosts took them on a bicycle tour through the surrounding countryside.

The visit ended with a formal dinner to celebrate the 30 years of twinning, which representatives also attended from Heimbuchenthal, Thury-Harcourt's other twin town that is situated in the Black Forest region of Germany.

During a ceremony before the dinner, chairman of the Thury-Harcourt Twinning Association, Nathalie Casas, welcomed the visitors warmly, and spoke of the importance of the twinning in these troubled times.

Chairman of the Seaton and District Twinning Association, Clare Jones, then presented a gift of a cast of an Ichthyosaurus fossil from Lyme Bay to Paul Chandelier, the mayor of Thury-Harcourt on behalf of the people of Seaton.

In return, the group accepted gifts of commemorative plaques from both German and French twinning associations.

A spokesperson for Seaton and District Twinning Association said: "Aside from all the enjoyment we share on a twinning visit, one of the great things about the twinning is the warmth and the friendship, which is so evident each time we go to Thury-Harcourt."

The group are always looking to expand and welcome new members from Seaton and the surrounding area.

expressions of interest from experienced individuals or firms to start drawing up a brief for design consultants and to start consultation with key stakeholders including Devon County Council as the highway authority and EDDC as owners of the beach."

The town council statement concluded: "The project will need their support and contribution from the very beginning as it could have a major impact on roads and traffic in the area and the way the beach is used for various activities."

TV stars for one night only: show helps restaurants

REFERRING to a customer as "fatty at table 11" should be a recipe for disaster for any restaurateur – especially if the customer finds out.

That is precisely what happened when an Axminster couple visited a restaurant in Brent Knoll for Channel 5's The Restaurant Inspector.

In what could have been a Fawlty Towers-inspired episode, Mike and Lucy Stead visited Acorns, about 30 miles south of Bristol, in January this year. The episode aired on Monday, June 18th and it didn't start well.

The dining room was cold, the food was poor, the staff couldn't help – so the couple left prematurely.

When the man in charge – a cocksure 19-year-old named Ollie Milenkovic, who hopes to be a millionaire at 25 – cleared their table, he said: "What a bunch of tossers."

When restaurant inspector Fernando Peire tells the 19-year-old that there had been two mystery diners the night before, the reply was: "Fatty at table 11?", referring to Mike.

Mr Peire appeared mildly shocked and said: "I've been taken aback by his attitude."

Surprisingly, Mike and Lucy have turned into repeat customers at the restaurant and hope to bring a coach-load of friends in the near future. Mike and Lucy both stress that they were not told by producers to be difficult, although they came across as precisely that.

They both said: "If we had liked it, we would have

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

said so. There was no agenda to make the place look bad."

Lucy explained: "They (the producers) made it out as we turned all the food away, but we didn't."

Mike, who used to be a chef, added: "The starter was lovely and the waitress was superb."

As part of the episode, Acorns underwent a makeover and became Ollie's Cafe. To make a long story short, Mike and Lucy were invited to the re-launch and were extremely pleased with the food and service.

Ollie apologised to the couple, and there are no hard feelings. Lucy explained: "He knew he had called us names and he called to apologise about three weeks before the show."

But she was also very understanding, and added: "We slated his place. Everybody, surely, would have been a bit hacked off."

Mike added: "I take my hat off to him. It takes a lot of balls to take over a restaurant at 19."

They hope to fill a coach with friends and visit the restaurant soon as part of a charity fundraiser. The plan is for everyone in the party to wear a t-shirt saying "I'm with fatty at table 11".

The episode can be watched at www.channel5.com/shows/the-restaurant-inspector/episodes/acorns.

Teacher signs book deal

AXE Valley Community College English teacher Emma Carroll is thrilled to bits after signing a two-book deal with Faber and Faber to publish her debut novel for young people, Frost Hollow Hall.

The novel came about as part of her MA in Writing For Young People at Bath Spa University, which she did as a part-time student and completed last autumn.

She was also influenced by teaching creative writing to AS English Literature students, and by her passion for all things Victorian. After being awarded the runner up prize for the MA course's Most Promising Writer, she was signed by United Agents, who then sold the UK rights to Frost Hollow Hall to Faber and Faber.

The novel is aimed at the 9-12 age range and is a ghost story set in Victorian times. It is told from the viewpoint of 14-year-old Tilly, whose life changes dramatically when she has a near death experience on a frozen lake.

She is saved by the undead spirit of a boy, who in return, now needs her to solve the mystery of his own death in the same lake ten years earlier.

Frost Hollow Hall is due to be published in October 2013. In the meantime, Mrs Carroll is gathering ideas for her second book.

College headteacher Martin Smith said: "Congratulations to Mrs Carroll – we are very proud of this superb achievement. We are extremely fortunate to have such talented teachers at our college."

News briefs

THE Rotary Club of Axminster would welcome nominations for its two annual community awards – The Leslie Knight Community Award and The Bill Knapman Community Award.

The Les Knight Community Award is presented to someone whose efforts have benefited the local community over the last year whilst the Bill Knapman Community Award is presented to someone whose efforts have benefited children and younger people over the past year.

Last year, the former was won by tourist information centre manager Sarah Crook for her "tireless efforts" promoting Axminster whilst the latter was claimed by former Axe Valley Community College student Christina Squire.

Among other things, Christina was one of the college's Gold Young Ambassadors which saw her engage in various sport-related activities like attending conferences and motivating fellow students.

A spokesperson for The Rotary Club of Axminster said: "If you would like to nominate a person or persons for one or both awards on the basis of the contribution they have made in the local community, please write with a brief description of the reason for your nomination."

Nominations must be received by Saturday, July 7th and should be sent to: Simon Dunn, Westover, Lear Lane, Axminster, Devon EX13 5JD.

News briefs

A 50-YEAR-OLD man from Axminster has been charged with attempting to cause grievous bodily harm with intent.

Simon Birks was further charged with the possession of an offensive weapon in a public place and criminal damage to a police vehicle.

He will appear at North and East Devon Magistrates' Court on Tuesday, July 10th.

The charges are in connection with an incident in Stockland on Thursday, April 12th.

A VOLUNTEER Poppy Appeal co-ordinator is sought by Axminster Royal British Legion.

The vacancy has arisen because Yvonne and Keith Taylor have announced their retirement.

Axminster branch member Lesley Frankau said: "Ideally, the new co-ordinator would work alongside the retiring couple for this year's appeal, taking over the role from 2013/2014 onwards (the annual Poppy Appeal runs from September to September)."

"Applicants do not need to join or be a member of the Royal British Legion but, ideally, sympathetic to their aims and objectives."

Anyone interested can contact Yvonne Taylor for further details on 01297 33641.

A PLANNING application for permission to convert two Axminster flats into one dwelling house has been approved.

The application is for 7 West Street and it was approved by East Devon District Council.

Volunteer board could be created

A BOARD of volunteers could be formed to make sure that the healthcare needs of Axminster will be heard and acted on.

Axminster Hospital League of Friends' annual general meeting amassed an unusually large crowd on Friday, June 15th. Held in the town's guildhall, the meeting attracted approximately 70 people, who listened to three guest speakers – Ottery-based doctor Simon Kerr, Tamara Powderley (an NHS Devon director) and Ian Tearle (head of health policy NHS Devon). League of friends chairman Dr Phil Taylor, who is based at Axminster Medical Practice, opened the meeting and said it was pleasing to see such a big crowd.

Financial figures circulated at the meeting showed that the league's charitable expenditure for the calendar year of 2011 came to just over £79,000. Dr Taylor praised everyone who had supported the league and also said it had been decided to spend in the region of £60,000 on a machine designed to assess macular degeneration, a common cause of sight loss.

Axminster.

The recent NHS and Social Care Act has placed decision making in the hands of clinicians in clinical commissioning groups. The meeting had been promoted as an opportunity for local people to find out more about the changes that the act will bring.

Dr Taylor asked those present: "What are the health needs of the area, and how can we ensure these needs can be met?"

"How do we get our voice heard?"

The claim that members of the public could influence decision making was challenged. One person said: "We've been here before, no-one listens."

But Dr Taylor believes the difference now is that those about to make decisions are the same people who will see patients on an individual basis – and are therefore better suited to create policy reflecting local views. Speaking to Pulman's View after the meeting, he said that the finer details of the way forward are currently being worked out.

He would like to hear from people interested in being part of a group looking into the healthcare needs of Axminster. A similar concept is already up and running in Tiverton, and anyone interested can email Dr Taylor at phil.taylor@nhs.net He stressed that the address is for expression of interest only, not for medical queries.

Society's calm art alternative

AXMINSTER Art Society stayed calm and carried on when Axe Vale Festival was cancelled.

The society planned an exhibition at the festival and alternative arrangements have been announced.

It will now take place at Trinity House in the centre of Axminster. There will be framed pictures, folios to frame and there will also be ample opportunity for artists of any age to show their prowess on the beginners' table, where anyone can have a go.

The exhibition will run from Saturday, July 7th to Saturday, July 14th inclusive, during shop opening hours, in the gallery on the second floor of Trinity House's Home-in-Style department. Entry to the exhibition is free of charge.

PLANS for a 40-acre solar farm near Axminster have been on public display in the town's Guildhall. TGC Renewables hopes to place a total of 20,000 photovoltaic panels across three fields at Newlands Farm, which is situated off the B3165 just north of Raymonds Hill.

In short, photovoltaic cells convert sunlight into electricity. The electricity generated at Newlands Farm would go to the grid and be used by Western Power, according to TGC Renewables development director, Roy Amner.

The company has been working on the project with landowner Gilbert Churchill for about 18 months and hopes to submit a planning application in late June or early July.

The exhibition on Thursday, June 14th was held to get local feedback before the planning application is finalised and submitted. If planning permission is granted, the construction period is about two months, and the company hopes to be operational on the site at the end of this year.

Mr Amner said the solar panels would be shielded by a hedge to minimise visual impact. An operational solar farm is monitored remotely, so is not labour intensive.

The proposed solar farm outside Axminster would not generate jobs, but Mr Amner did say there would be an opportunity for local suppliers of concrete, aggregate and such during the construction process.

Mr Churchill said about the solar farm concept: "It is clean energy working with mother nature."

MP pledges portion of charity skydive funds to pool facility

AN MP has pledged a third of the money from a charity skydive to the Flamingo Pool's Liner Appeal in Axminster.

Tiverton and Honiton MP Neil Parish officially launched the appeal when he visited Axminster on Friday, June 22nd.

His visit came only a day after the announcement that Axe Vale Festival, which has pumped in more than £185,000 to Flamingo Pool over the years, had been cancelled because of the wet weather.

The appeal needs to raise approximately £55,000.

When opened in 1998 after a huge community effort and Sport England grant, the pool was one of only a few stainless steel pools in the country.

The pool is lined and not tiled, but the liner needs replacing.

Flamingo manager Steve Buxton said the plan is to shut for about two weeks around Christmas and do the replacing then.

The appeal had a great start when Axe Vale Festival announced only a few weeks ago that it would make a £10,000 donation to the appeal.

The cheque was presented during Friday's launch and, all in all, the appeal stood at about £10,570.

MP Parish said he is about to make a skydive in aid of two other worthy causes in the constituency, and decided to include the Flamingo Pool's appeal for a slice of the takings.

He uses the pool from time to time, and said: "I come in sometimes incognito and swim in the pool."

About the festival cancellation, he said:

Axminster mayor Andrew Moulding attended the launch in a non-official capacity.

Having recently had knee surgery, he has used the hydrotherapy pool as part of his rehab.

He asked people to support the appeal and said: "I feel the town should get right behind the appeal, just like it did when the pool was created."

Primary celebrates 150th anniversary

ST Mary RC Primary School in Axminster kick-started its 150th anniversary celebrations with a Victorian theme day on Friday, June 15th.

Pupils and staff arrived in Victorian costume and got to grips with cakes, art, science and more from that era through various activities.

Nothing of the original building remains, but there has been a Catholic primary school on the site for 150 years.

Various displays of school memorabilia and flowers were laid on in the school and nearby church during the celebratory weekend.

Firefighters called out to car

FIREFIGHTERS dealt with a car leaking fuel after an accident outside Stedcombe Lodge in Axmouth on Thursday, June 21st.

The accident involved one car and firefighters from Seaton were called to the scene at about 7:50pm.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "No persons were trapped but the vehicle was leaking fluids onto the carriageway and needed to be made safe."

Summer fayre next month

THE Seaton and Axmouth branch of Cancer Research will hold its summer fayre at Seaton Town Hall on Saturday, July 14th from 10am to 1pm.

Organisers say there will be a tombola, raffle and many stalls with books, bric-a-brac, toys, cakes, jewellery, plants and fun for all.

Seaton ready for Independents' Day

By Laura Goldsbury Noy
laura@pemediaco.uk

SEATON is among many towns flying the flag for local retailers and supporting diversity on the high street.

Across the country on July 4th, the public will be encouraged to buy at least one item from their local, independent shop to celebrate Independents' Day 2012.

The national campaign, organised by Skillsmart Retail and the National Skills Academy for Retail, champions the local retailers who make the UK's villages, towns and cities so special.

To raise awareness of the campaign, Seaton and District Chamber of Commerce are launching The Seaton Business Awards and also encouraging people to support their independent shops.

There will be two main awards - Best Independent Retail Business and Best Independent Non-Retail Business. The public will be able to vote and say who their favourite independent business is and why.

Shoppers will be encouraged to take part in the competition and there will be a prize draw for those who do.

The awards will be celebrated and the results announced at an event in August.

If businesses or shoppers would like to find out more they can contact Heidi Hallam, Business Development Officer - heidi@apositive-difference.co.uk

Chairman of the Chamber, Marcus Hartnell, said: "We have some great independent shops in Seaton and we want to encourage more people to use them. If everyone bought at least one item from one of our independent shops on July 4th this would be a big help.

"If we can then encourage our local community and visitors to carry on buying locally on a more regular basis then we could have a more vibrant town."

With over 160,000 independent retailers making up 92 per cent of all retail businesses in the UK, their importance to local economies as well as their contribution to a location's identity and community is unrivalled.

To stay up to date with all the activities, you can follow the campaign on Twitter @Retail_IndieDay, facebook.com/independentsday or on the news section of www.retailindieday.com

FROSH handover to Seaton's Voice

SEATON'S Voice were given a financial boost last week when the disbanded Friends of Seaton Town/Community Hall (FROSH) handed over its remaining funds. FROSH were set up in 2007 following a public meeting about the continuing difficulties of running the town hall. However, after Seaton's Voice was set up, it was decided that FROSH would take a back seat and the group was eventually disbanded. Members handed over their remaining funds of £214.09 to members of Seaton's Voice at the town hall on Wednesday. Seaton's Voice members said it was a "lovely gesture" and that it was "the past coming through to the present and working toward the future"

THE chartered accountants at Thomas Westcott's Seaton office have announced that local man Paul Dike won the branch's jubilee draw. Mr Dike, who is a teacher at Seaton Primary School, came back from his holiday in Austria to the news that he had won a hamper. He said: "It was a lovely surprise and my wife and I will enjoy it very much."

Beer Scouts get into the Olympic spirit

BEER Scouts got into the Olympic spirit when the 1948 Olympic Sailing Torch arrived at Beer Sailing Club.

The replica of the 1948 torch is on a journey from Torquay to Weymouth and Portland Sailing Academy (WPNSA), this year's Olympic sailing venue, and made one of its many stops in Beer last week.

The Beer Scouts got more than they bargained for when, to their surprise, a 2012 Olympic torch also appeared in the village, brought along by Honiton Scout leader and torch bearer, Ryan Braunton Turner who ran with it in Minehead.

The Scouts group were able to pass around the torches and one scout, Maryka, was wowed when she had the opportunity to hold two torches together.

Organiser, RYA South West regional Development officer Tony Wood, said: "It was great to see the scouts so excited about seeing two of the Olympic torches together."

■ EVERYONE had a great time learning about the Olympic torches from local torchbearer Ryan Braunton Turner and those linked with the 1948 Olympic torch journey to the WPNSA, whilst, right, the Scouts were wowed when they saw not one but two Olympic torches.

Pat's 'thank you' to Scouts

THE 1st Beer Scouts were thanked in a special coffee morning organised by former Poppy Appeal organiser, Pat Bewick, raising £251.

After retiring from her long serving role as the poppy organiser for Beer's Royal British Legion Women's Section, Pat (pictured above, front row, end right) felt the need to thank the Scouts for their help and service in the village, particularly during remembrance events.

She told Pulman's View: "The Beer Scouts are really good kids and this is my way of thanking them for their support during my role as poppy organiser and to give something back to them."

Beer Scout Leader, Fiona Gage, added: "I am so grateful to Pat for her support and help with fundraising for our scout group."

"The money will go towards our mini bus for the group which will enable us to do a lot more with the local young people with extra trips and activities."

Schools stage their own torch relay

PRIMARY school pupils have promoted the Olympics by carrying torches between Axe Valley towns and villages.

A total of two torches - one made by students at Axe Valley Community College and another one made by students at Colyton Grammar School - have been on week-long tours of local schools.

The Axminster torch was taken by a college team to Chardstock Primary School on Monday, June 18th and paraded through the village.

The torch was then taken to Uplyme by car before it made its way back to Axminster.

A team of pupils from Axminster Primary School and St Mary's RC Primary School gathered at Sector Lane on Wednesday, June 20th and walked the torch to Hawkchurch Primary School.

They left Axminster in style as they were given a police escort. The torch relays have been organised by Axe Valley and Colyton Learning Community.

Sports co-ordinator Hannah Manfield said: "Many children will have a chance to celebrate the Olympics and have photos with the torch at each primary school before it is delivered in a multitude of exciting ways to the next school."

LET THE GAMES BEGIN | Pupils from Rhinos Class at St Andrew's Primary School in Chardstock during the torch relay

"Colyton Grammar School ran from Colyton to their first primary school."

"The torch has been designed and made by Year 11 design and technology students, with assistance from Peco in Beer."

"Three Colyton students and two teachers have already spent time at Peco, learning how to engrave the torch handle with the names of the schools using a special laser cutting machine."

During the week the torch travelled from Beer Primary to Seaton, Musbury, Kilmington, Shute and Colyton Primary, returning to Colyton Grammar School on Friday, June 22nd.

Olympic celebrations continue at Colyton Grammar

By Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedial.co.uk

OLYMPIC celebrations continued at Colyton Grammar School this week, as their own version of the Olympic torch returned having toured around local primary schools.

The torch, designed and created by Year 11 design and technology students, set off on the Axe Valley Learning Community Relay on Monday and was returned by Colyton Primary School students on Friday afternoon.

On its journey it visited children at Beer, Seaton, Musbury, Kilminster and Shute primary schools.

On returning to the grammar school it was joined by the Mayor and Mayoress of Colyford, John and Vicky Mills, and Colyton town crier, Derek Wenn.

To celebrate the torch's return, Colyton Grammar students put on their own Olympic-style opening ceremony for the younger children and guests, including ballet, modern dance, Irish dance, gymnastics and taekwondo.

A replica of the 1948 Olympic sailing torch, currently making its way from Torquay to the sailing venue in Weymouth, was also on display to the children.

The same opening ceremony was performed again on Monday to other Colyton Grammar students, marking the beginning of the school's Olympic Week.

Celebrations will continue today (Tuesday) with the school's sports day and the Olympic Torch Kiss, when sixth form student and Olympic torchbearer Emma McLean, who ran in the official relay in Exeter, will be in her own torch.

Collection raises over £2,000

THE Colyton and Colyford branch of Cancer Research UK would like to thank all local residents for their support in the group's house-to-house collection.

The annual collection this year raised £2,221.40.

Branch secretary Jean Love said: "Very many thanks to all who donated to the collection. We must say a very big thank you to all our collectors, we could not manage this event without all your help and time to deliver and collect the envelopes."

All set for annual church fete

THE annual Colyton Church Fete will be held on Saturday, July 7th from 2.30pm.

St Andrew's Parish Church will play host to a variety of traditional stalls, competitions, a raffle and cream teas.

There will also be live music from Bridport-based band One Night Stand and there will be dancing led by the young T&N Dancers of Colyton.

Senior insight into trains

THORNCOMBE Rail Activities Club's speaker in June was Andrew Pennington, a very experienced head of planning at First Great Western.

He runs one of the largest planning departments in the country with a staff of over thirty people.

Their job is to match the resources available with the expectations and wishes of consumers and many others: government, engineering, maintenance, accountants, among many others.

Since the needs of each of these parties do not necessarily always coincide, they have a very complex juggling task to get the best fit for the timetable.

The planners also have to deal with short term disruptions or extra demands such as bad weather, breakdowns, excursions and events.

Andrew also explained that given the structure of the management of the railway system as a whole, the end result of their planning has to be submitted to other parties, such as Network Rail, who "own" the track and lineside equipment.

Their own planning department may demand changes to the submitted plan.

One advantage FGW has is that the parent company also runs buses, so that if the worst happens and a line is closed, they can often whistle up alternative transport quite quickly.

Members were very lucky to get such a senior manager to give a fascinating and detailed look at the behind-the-scenes work that goes on to keep trains running.

The next meeting is in September, when Graham Bean will reveal more about his forays into railway premises in a talk entitled More about Graham's Mis-spent Youth.

This will be on Wednesday, September 19th at 7.30pm in the village hall at Thorncombe.

Newly-formed Humanists hear talk on origin of Earth

THE June meeting of the East Devon Humanist Group took place at Sidbury Parish rooms when David Love, who has a degree in physics and astronomy, gave a talk on the origins of the universe.

This was followed by a lively discussion. David's clear and wide-ranging talk was accompanied by some excellent photographs of stars and of galaxies of which there are more than 150 billion in the observable universe.

He described how astronomers developed the big bang theory of the origins of the universe and why this has now become less of a theory and more of an established fact, the big bang fitting every phenomenon observed so far.

He ended with an account of what we do not yet know, dark matter and dark energy, which together make up 94 per cent of space.

To find more about humanism or about the activities of East Devon Humanists, please contact Ann on 01404 46766.

Illustrated Tin Can Mail topic

TIN Can Mail from Tonga was the very intriguing title of the illustrated talk given by the Revd Terry Harris at the June meeting of the Honiton Afternoon Women's Institute (WI).

The Revd Harris explained that he first developed an interest in Philately at the age of 11 and this has continued all through his life.

His speciality has been postage from Tin Can Island which is the most northerly volcanic island in Tonga.

Because of its rock formation there is no harbour so until recent times the mail could only be received and collected from ships passing by in the Pacific Ocean.

Men went by canoes as far as possible and then swam out to the ships to collect the sealed tin cans as they came overboard.

The ships also took the sealed cans on board containing mail for delivery from the Islanders.

The scheme started in 1929 but there is now an airstrip on the Island which has made life much easier.

The Revd Harris brought a fascinating display of a wide variety of stamped envelopes all marked Tin Can Mail for the members to see at the end of a very interesting afternoon.

The Diamond Jubilee Lunch held at the Tumbling Weir Hotel in Ottery St Mary for the East Devon area of the Devon Federation of Women's Institutes was a great success with over 80 members attending.

After the lunch members were entertained by Margaret Duffy who gave a talk entitled Tiaras and Feathers.

She had a beautiful display of Fascinators which she modelled on many of the members.

It was a really good finale to a very enjoyable occasion.

The Diamond Jubilee celebrations for this WI were held at the home of Jenny Richards on a lovely summer's afternoon where members were able to sit in her garden for a social occasion and enjoy some very nice refreshments.

The next meeting is on July 9th at 2pm in the Methodist Chapel, when a cookery demonstration will be given by Mrs Mary Bolshaw.

Visitors are always welcome to attend.

'Strictly' stars at WI federation meeting

THE June meeting of the Seaton Women's Institute (WI) opened with the usual business matters and followed by a report from Aimee Guard detailing her visit to the national meeting held in London at the Albert Hall.

It was attended by over 5,000 women. There were two great speakers, Julien Fellowes and Dame Magee Aderin Pocock.

The Resolution for More Midwives was voted in favour by 96 per cent. There was also great excitement when four members of Strictly Come Dancing team arrived to give a surprise performance.

Two new members were welcomed to the group along with the return of a past member. The speaker was a retired airline pilot, who gave a talk beginning with how he achieved his pilots licence to becoming a captain.

The speaker next month is a gentleman from the RSPB on Tuesday, July 17th at 2.15pm at Seaton Methodist church hall.

Feniton kids in charity abseil

PUPILS, parents and teachers of Feniton Primary School took part in a sponsored abseil down St Andrew's Church, Feniton, on Saturday, June 16th.

The 50ft decent was in aid of the school, church and the Norman Palmer School in Melanesia, which is twinned with primary school.

The abseil was for children over eight-years-old, but other children had the chance to watch their daredevil teddy bears ride the church zip-wire.

Shute's Olympic sculptures

▲ CHILDREN from Elder Class with their Olympic sculptures

■ PUPILS from Elder Class at Shute Community Primary School joined forces with an artist to create two Olympic-inspired sculptures. The children came up with some initial ideas and then worked with Cornish artist Lucy Jackson in early June to bring them to life.

Lucy arrived at the school armed with simple sculptural frames made of timber poles and old dustbins. She then worked with the children with materials that included acrylic paint, papier mache and gaffer tape to create the two figures.

Headteacher Amanda Graham said: "I am very grateful to Lucy for helping the children bring their ideas to life in a way that really captures the spirit of the Olympics. They've also experienced, first-hand, what it's like to take a drawing and turn it into a three-dimensional object. The resulting sculptures are amazing."

Plant fair

GARDENERS and plant enthusiasts will be heading for Burrow Farm Gardens in Dalwood on Sunday, July 1st for the Hardy Plant Society's plant fair.

The fair will run from 10am to 4pm and ten specialist nurseries will be attending, with a selection of trees, shrubs, climbers, roses, bamboos, perennials and alpine.

Event organiser Trevor Wood said: "Plant fairs are great for finding the kind of plants you won't see in many garden centres, at reasonable prices and the added bonus of expert advice thrown in."

"With lots of small, often family run nurseries, there's always a great selection for everyone."

The gardens will be open until 7pm for everyone to enjoy the new wildflower meadow and fabulous views after making their purchases.

Normal garden entry applies and food is on offer in the garden café.

Barn fire

FIREFIGHTERS from four stations – Axminster, Charmouth, Lyme Regis and Exeter – were mobilised to a barn fire at a farm in Hawkchurch.

The alarm was raised at about 5.15pm on Thursday, June 21st and a spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The fire involved approximately four tonnes of hay in a single storey barn and was extinguished using two hose reel jets and small tools."

"Fifty per cent of the barn contents were severely damaged by fire and smoke. The cause is believed to be accidental."

Improve town for the future

■ I FORESEE a potential problem in Seaton which, if it is not resolved in the very near future, could become an unfortunate part of our next generation's heritage.

The public area in the proximity of the new Tesco store has never yet been officially named. Since Tesco has now been built and operating for well over six months the common parlance now refers to this area as "Tesco Square" or the "Tesco Public Open Space".

It is obviously necessary to designate such an area in order to be able to direct anyone to it so it is quite understandable that these names have been adopted.

Is this what Seaton wants?

I have nothing against Tesco as a company – indeed they may well have brought advantages to the Town – but, surely we can find a more meaningful or attractive locally oriented name for the open area?

I would like to know what steps our respective councils (Seaton Town Council and East Devon District Council) are taking to arrive at a name for which we could all be proud to direct visitors to before it is too late and the current name(s) stick.

If they are truly stuck for an answer, perhaps a request for public suggestions might provide the answer?

Bernard Dunford
Seaton

STAR LETTER
£10 Archway Bookshop vouchers are on their way to your door...

■ IS it not possible for business rates to be lowered in order to help our precious little shops?

It would be so tragic to lose any more of them. You can get personal, unhurried and tailor-made purchases and even if it sometimes may cost a little extra, just think of the time, petrol and stress saved by shopping locally.

Sadly, we all age and become less-able, making these shops ever more precious and once they've gone, that's it – too late, they don't come back.

Then, 'dear' councillors you won't get any business rates from them and we'll all suffer.

Mayor thanks his people for Jubilee

■ I WOULD like to take this opportunity to thank all the people of Honiton for supporting the range of Jubilee events taking place in the town over the Jubilee period, despite the appalling weather at times.

I would particularly like to thank the various members of the community and local organisations for working with the town council to organise tea parties, big lunch, fun and games event, band concert and talent show.

It is so good as the mayor to know how well the community can come together to make things happen for Honiton.

I would like to pay particular tribute to our market traders who contributed so generously to the hampers that were raffled at the street market on the Saturday of Jubilee weekend.

Through their generosity three hampers were provided for a free draw available to all people using the market on that day.

I know that in addition to the events in the town centre, many people took the opportunity to arrange their own street parties and garden parties and I hope that you all enjoyed the weekend as much as I did.

Cllr David Foster
Mayor of Honiton

■ LAST Devon County Council (DCC) has funds but chooses to ignore public rights of way.

According to local media information DCC has over £3 million in a reserve fund.

Reserved for what exactly?

We have no street lights at night, sporadic bin collections, limited roadside maintenance and dedicated public footpaths and cycle routes left to stagnate.

Is this what we are all paying our council taxes for? Just where is the money going to?

Who needs twinning with some remote town in France or Germany, or is this just another excuse for a freebie junket for the councillors?

We have just had a much promoted Jubilee weekend when tourists were treated to the sight of a weed-infested, overgrown nature trail that runs from Colyford Road through to the Underfleet.

■ DID you hear it?

I am referring to the excessive noise from the two 'farewell' events held in a huge marquee at Sector Lane recently.

While 10 decibels may be appropriate in a town hall with solid walls to contain the noise, the effect is far louder outdoors.

Valley View retirement complex is built along the southern boundary of the football ground.

Several of the poor residents, many of whom are unwell and over 90-years-old, were unable to go to bed, as the noise in their rooms was intolerable.

Bearing in mind that this has been promoted as a local area of outstanding natural beauty.....what exactly is beautiful about forcing your way through stinging nettles and weeds so high they almost obscure any oncoming people/dogs?

Heaven help anyone trying to negotiate their way through with a pram or buggy!

Apparently, this will be dealt with next week because the wet weather has been a hazard thus far.

Well, heaven forbid that we should have some dry weather because overgrown hedgerows are a fire hazard. Isn't Devon supposed to be a tourist attraction?

Are we happy that DCC has so much money to spend and doesn't spend it on making our Devon attractive?

Mrs J A warren
Seaton

They were forced to sit up in their communal room, wearing earplugs, until about 2am on two consecutive nights, until the revellers had gone home. Some had received warning letters whilst others had not.

As it transpires that football will continue to be played at Sector Lane for the foreseeable future, I hope that consideration will be given to the health and wellbeing of the residents trapped in their homes at Valley View, before permission is granted to the football club for future discos.

A cold Summer Solstice

AS I write it is the Summer Solstice, the longest day of the year. It should be warm, sunny and sparkling, a day in which to rejoice. Instead, it is cold, wet and miserable, a day more in tune with winter than summer! I rather suspect the modern Druids must have suffered a chilly, damp start to their dawn celebrations at Stonehenge.

The grass in the fields beside my office is growing ever taller by the day and turning to seed while the likelihood of my being able to cut and bale my acre for silage over the next week or so grows ever less likely. What a summer! Surely the gods will relent and allow us a few weeks of sun and warmth in July and August!

The Blackdown Hills AONB team will certainly need some decent weather in July to support their proposed wildflower sketching and map reading activities!

On Saturday, July 7th there will be an introduction to map reading at Membury village hall, which follows on from last November's beginners' course, although it's suitable for anyone with some basic knowledge. A quick refresher session will be followed by a walk around Membury to practice skills.

Then, on Sunday, July 15th artist Liz Gregory and botanist David Allen will lead a visit to Yarty Moor nature reserve where participants can learn about the wildflowers of the area and sketch them.

Other events in the Blackdown Hills July calendar include a Woodland Fair, Goren Farm wildflower weekends, a Big Bat Survey, butterfly walks and craft courses. For further details, call 01823 680681 or visit www.blackdownhillsaonb.org.uk

I have also heard from Richard Whiteside who, with his wife Alison, runs Wildside Experience. He tells me that he has a walk on Saturday July 14th, scheduled to look for nightjars and glow-worms.

An earlier walk, which I mentioned and was to take place on June 7th, had to be postponed due to desperate weather, but was re-scheduled for a week later and provided a fine sighting of a nightjar, churring and flying close by, while several more were spotted, plus young tawny owls and pipistrelle bats.

The meeting place for the July outing is the Forestry Commission car park near Crossways Farm on Blackdown Common, map ref ST124166. For further information call 01823 680931 or go to www.wildsideexperience.co.uk

What of the wildlife scene? Well, on the butterfly and moth front the story is fairly dire from my perspective. I have seen not a single brimstone, that lovely yellow butterfly (the female is white) which is usually a harbinger of spring, and while orange-tips were well represented in April, there have been only a handful of red admirals.

A few meadow browns are showing when the rains halt, but that has been the sum total so far on my patch. Tortoiseshells are now a rarity and I have not seen a peacock, yet all these were so commonplace a few years ago. As for moths . . . where are they? There was a time when security lights would be a-flutter with a variety of moths and there was always the chance of seeing a hawkmoth round the flowers in the late evening. Now, nothing. It is so sad.

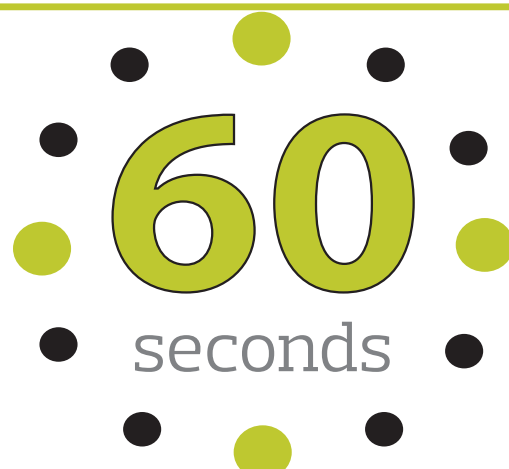

This, too, is the first year I can recall when swallows have failed to nest in the barn. A pair have appeared and are seen perching on the telephone wires and swooping for insects, but they have made no attempt to nest. It is most peculiar. Have any readers experienced a similar phenomenon I wonder?

Three years ago we had three pairs nesting, each double brooded so that by the end of the summer the air was filled with swallows, old and young. Now, nothing.

GYPSY and Purple Watkins stamped their mark on East Devon about a year ago when Gypsy started singing on the street of Sidmouth and other towns and cities in Devon, Dorset, Somerset and Cornwall. After years of travelling and singing, Gypsy and Purple knew that at some point they would need to settle down, so their two children, Shoshanah and Tannison could go to school. Gypsy continues to produce music, performing locally as a well-known musician and singer in Devon and the surrounding area.

● WHY are you called Gypsy and Purple?

MY favourite colour is Purple so that is why I chose the name for him. I love his Purple hair as he colours it himself and each time he does it different from the last time he coloured it! Purple chose my name because of the way I dress. It is expressive and creative. Also my name Gypsy is relevant because Charlie Chaplin is my distant relative, who was married to a girl he called Gypsy.

● HOW would you describe your concerts to people who have never been to see you?

A LOT of people think that I am an opera singer. I only started learning about opera when I was pregnant with Shoshanah in Spain. The songs I sing at the concerts are of a huge variety. I sing songs from Doris Day, Dusty Springfield and even Status Quo, along with Elvis Presley and Shirley Bassey. The show is entertaining and informal. The aim is for people to enjoy themselves and as Purple Says "expect the unexpected!"

● ON the back of your albums it says: AIMS Active Independent Mentoring Services Ltd (Making the Invisible Visible) what is this?

AIMS Ltd is the business that Purple set up to promote my career. As a professional mentor Purple believes that you have to enhance and empower people to believe that they can be successful. This helps me to achieve my goals in life.

● DO you have any up and coming gigs?

This Saturday (June 30th) we have our first concert at a new venue called Stowford Community Centre in

It's a mug mystery

MEMBERS of The Branscombe Project are hoping to solve what they call the World War I mug mystery.

The Branscombe Project was formed about 20 years ago and consists of people interested in the history of Branscombe and surrounding areas. Members are keen to establish the precise details of engraved pewter mugs, apparently given to men from the village who fought in World War One. One of those involved in the project is Alan Rockey.

His granddad, Harry Hansford, was presented with a mug, which has been in Alan's possession for some time. Alan said: "My uncle, Charles Hansford, gave it to me. I guess it is because it is coming up to 100 years since the beginning of the war that I have started to take greater interest. We want to know who commissioned them [the mugs], how many were presented, when they were presented and so on."

He, and fellow project members, have so far found 16 mugs and established that three other mugs have been lost. He said: "We want to try and collect as many mugs together as we can. We might do a service of celebration or something."

The mugs have an inscription saying "Branscombe Contingent, 1914-1919" plus the name of the person the respective mug was presented to. One of the 16 traced mugs had ended up in a Reading pub.

Anyone who knows of a mug or two - or the history behind them - is asked to call Alan on 07768 462197 or email contacts@branscombeproject.org.uk.

Sidmouth, which is pay on the door. We will return to The Henhayes Centre in Crewkerne, Somerset soon and are looking for a venue in Bridport, Dorset. We are also performing at Exeter Cathedral in February next year, so this is very special.

● WHAT do you do when you're not singing?

Apart from keeping the children busy we have a lot of hobbies. We love art, Purple loves painting contemporary when I encourage him, and I love drawing spiritual images with charcoal and pencil. One thing we love about Devon is that the little churches are so beautiful. I love to do Yoga and Purple likes a few beers while I'm doing it! Also dancing salsa, Tai chi and belly dancing - me not Purple! Together we enjoy aromatherapy, reading old books, bird watching at the local nature reserves, walking and writing new songs.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

PASTOR Darell Holmes writes from Kilminster:

With the Olympics and Paralympics coming into view, Kilminster Baptist Church spent their Father's Day service looking at the Paralympics, and the Baptist campaign to sponsor six athletes to come from Haiti to attend the event in a bid to challenge the cultural view there that people with disabilities have no value.

The initiative may be a drop in the ocean, but all change starts with one small step, and the Baptist Union will also be lobbying the government to promote inclusion policies for disabled people on all foreign aid projects. See www.undefeated.org.uk

There were two presents for the Prime Minister last week. One was the half-a-million-strong petition in favour of traditional marriage; the other was a submission from rather fewer members of the C of E putting forward the church's view of same-sex marriage. Interesting how it is known what the C of E thinks, because this has not been published! Nor is it yet clear what will happen to the women-bishops measure during the next Synod, but many will be hoping.

So on to local events - in Axminster, the one-hour Thursday lunchtime concerts continue at The Minster from 12:30pm; performances are followed by lunch. This week the Capriol Guitar Duo play. Donations for church fabric.

The week started for Branscombe with the first of their Songs of Praise on the beach. The next will be on August 12th at 6pm with the Honiton Town Band.

In Musbury, there will be a Songs of Praise to conclude their Flower Festival in the church at 6pm on Sunday.

And in Honiton, on St Paul's Church forecourt on June 30th, the town will be marking Armed Forces Day - all are invited to come along.

On the same evening, at Colyton Church, Exeter Chamber Choir offer a concert of madrigals, songs, jazz and spirituals at 7:30pm. The following day, at 10:45am, the younger members of the church choir offer a short concert in aid of the choir's bursary fund.

● Seaton church magazine this month reports that there are over 20 active groups of workers in the parish ranging from bell ringers to the Julian Prayer Group - is this a record? And it doesn't include at least another 20 who work directly on church tasks such as flowers, cleaning and music.

They were our halcyon days

WHEN old journalists get together, stand by for a late night!

The last dinner guests at the excellent Wheelwright Inn, Colyford, on Friday evening had long gone by which time we were deep into conversation about whether local newspapers will survive.

We all had a different view. By we I mean me and two of the best reporters I have worked with over a career spanning nearly 50 years - Geoff Baker and Mark Hollands.

I've lost count of the young reporters that have worked for me during that time but these two were top of the crop.

It's over 30 years since we last worked together during my first editorship at the Sidmouth Herald.

But one thing we did agree upon was that they were definitely our halcyon days.

Geoff went on to work on the entertainments desk for the Daily Star, followed by 15 years as Paul McCartney's head of PR; Mark emigrated to Australia where he worked as foreign editor on The Australian and then went into the dot.com world followed by a series of top jobs in the media which has enabled him to retire at 47!

GREAT sadness, especially among my age group, following the death of Sue Bounds in Axminster.

I grew up with Sue and went to the same school in Lyme Regis. We knocked around as youngsters and she went on to marry Les Bounds, my big football buddy in Axminster. They were the perfect couple. We did not meet that often in the intervening years but when we did she always asked after her home town.

Sue had fought her battle with cancer with great bravery and fortitude. Les told me at the recent dinner at Sector Lane that things were not looking good but her death still came as a shock to all who knew and loved her.

She had a delightful, quirky character and in our younger years she was always the life and soul of the party.

Our thoughts are with Les and her two sons, Jamie and Adam, and all Sue's family.

She was a very special lady.

EDITOR AT LARGE

Philip Evans

He was back in the Sidmouth area catching up on family and friends.

Mark joined me as a fresh faced cub reporter at the age of 16 on the princely sum of £23 a week.

Both were filled with ambition in our fun-filled Herald days and both ended up at the top of the tree in their incredible careers.

They both spoke with great affection of their days on the Herald and were kind enough to say that their time under my tutelage had an enormous influence on their lives.

Needless to say, I'm enormously proud of both of them and their considerable achievements.

■ TOGETHER AGAIN: Three old hacks (well one at least!)

Geoff is now back living in Lyme, having penned a brilliant book about the rock business. Last week he wrote a incisive piece on McCartney's 70th birthday for the Daily Mirror.

Mark returns to his family in Oz to enjoy the good life and concentrate on writing crime thrillers, promising to return again soon.

Rain sinks festival for first time in 18 years

ME and my big mouth, or should I say clumsy pen! Like many others, I got suckered into thinking summer had just arrived in my page three From the Editor's Chair editorial last week and was saying how much I was looking forward to the Axe Vale Festival.

The sunshine lasted no more than a couple of days before the rains returned and for the first time in 18 years the showground at Gammons Hill is so wet that the festival - one of the most popular and enjoyable one-day shows in Devon - has been cancelled.

The hard working committee behind the festival - led this year by Claire Morgan - have coped with inclement weather on a number of occasions in the past but have always managed to overcome. This year was different, such has been the verocity of the rain this week on an already soaking wet site. There was no hope of it going ahead.

Show or no show, perhaps this is as good a time to reflect on what an important role the Axe Vale Festival has played in helping worthy causes in and around Axminster. Since that very first show in 1994 the festival has raised nearly £300,000 with £186,000 going to the running costs of the Flamingo Pool in Axminster and a further £111,000 in donations to other groups and charities. Last year Axminster Heritage benefited to the tune of £20,000.

The organisers will have been mortified by having to call off the festival, such an important part of the summer scene in the Axe Valley.

Next year's show will return bigger and better over the weekend of June 22nd-23rd. Put it in your diary now.

Logical Energy

Solar Energy in a Discreet Package

DESPITE the promise of reduced electricity bills and a generous quarterly pay-out from the Government backed FITs, solar panels fall short for some on the most basic of issues – looks.

If this describes you, or your partners feelings towards solar energy, you may be interested in a new breed of solar panel from Axminster based Logical Energy in the form of CIS Thin Film.

Tried and tested throughout the world, as well as in climates close to our own, this elegant 'all-black' panel blends effortlessly with most roofing materials, and can be integrated into the roof structure itself – as shown here.

If looks matter when it comes to your home, CIS thin film certainly doesn't mean compromising pleasing aesthetics over substance. Far from it, the panel reaches its peak far quicker than its traditional counterpart and promises up to a 14% higher electricity generation. The result is a superior return on investment and faster payback.

You may be one of those homeowners, farmers or businesses where the positioning of your roof, shading issues or even cost rendered your good intentions prohibitive or even out of the question. If so, you may want to look again. CIS thin film is more robust, offering greater flexibility in terms of roof orientation and shading. In terms of cost, you will be pleasantly surprised to find a quote today is far lower due to panel prices responding to market fluctuation.

Manor Antiques Restoration

MANOR Antiques Restorations is a family run business with 20 years experience in the restoration and preservation of antique and period furniture.

The traditional craftsman's skills that they can offer range from veneering, marquetry, parquetry, cabinet making, wood turning, French polishing and sympathetic repairs, from the smallest scratch to the complete restoration of a piece of furniture.

In Manor Antiques' fully equipped work shop they are able to take on commissions for pieces of new or reproduction furniture made to the customers requirements.

They have an extensive portfolio which shows the high standard of work which is available for customers to look at to see the transformation of a restored piece of furniture. Manor Antiques also offer a carpentry and joinery service with items ranging from an ornamental oak front door, interior doors made from hard or soft wood, to fancy oak or pine plate racks. Their range is extensive and exclusive to your requirements. They can be found at Ellishayes, Coombe Raleigh which is on the Honiton to Dunkswell road.

The Honiton Garden Centre

THE Honiton Garden Centre will be officially opened at a Champagne Reception on the evening of June 29th by Councillor Graham Godbeer, EDDC Portfolio holder for the Economy. Tony Collins and Lisa Bartrop purchased the then closed Colour Wheel Plants site (A35 on the outskirts of Honiton) in June 2007 and have grown and invested in the business in the ensuing 5 years. Their aim was to bring a traditional and high class Garden Centre to Honiton and as of June 29th 2012, following substantial investment, the business will be formally opened as The Honiton Garden Centre.

Co-Owner Lisa Bartrop said 'We really like to think local, so the vast majority of our suppliers and growers are based nearby. It cuts down on transport, helps the environment and means that we can build great relationships with local businesses. All this means that we can deliver high quality products at the very best prices.'

Whether you are a green-fingered expert or gardening beginner, we have everything you need, including garden tools, fertilizers, lawn care, propagation aids and seeds to grow your own.'

Key Points

- The Honiton Garden Centre (As of 29th June 2012 - Formerly Colour Wheel Plants)
- 2006 - 2007
- Previous Colour Wheel Plants business closed for almost a year
- 2007 June
- Colour Wheel Plants business & site purchased by Lisa Bartrop and Tony Collins
- 2007 - 2012
- Over £350,000 in redevelopment including:
- New Shop 5,000 sq ft. and increased stock to 6,000 lines.
- New Car Park & Entrance.
- Enhanced café and restaurant facilities.

- Investment in environmentally friendly energy consumption methods & advanced rain water harvesting.
- Recently upgraded to a silver Green Tourism Business award, from a previous bronze award.
- Commitment to employing local people - currently employing 7 local people.
- A small but progressive rural business with a firm ethos around good customer service that supports the local supply chain, whilst seizing an opportunity to provide Honiton with a traditional horticultural based garden centre.

Alexander Paul

Alexander Paul Antiques Olympic Offer!

ALEXANDER Paul Antiques claim to have the largest selection of beautiful antique French tables on the internet. Their reputation has grown on the sure knowledge that if you buy from Alexander Paul you can be confident you are buying the best; the best tables France has to offer, restored to the highest standards, delivered with impeccable customer service.

Alexander Paul are delighted to offer all readers an opportunity to purchase one of these fine tables with a guaranteed 10% off any piece of antique furniture in stock, valid until the Olympic start date on the 27th July 2012

You can view the wonderful range of antique French dining tables, coffee tables, serving tables and chairs by visiting their award winning, easy to use website at www.alexanderpaulantiques.com; alternatively you can visit their extensive show rooms at Fenny Bridges (just 2 miles west of Honiton on the old A30) where there is ample free parking and a warm welcome!

Not included in the 10% offer but also of great interest is the new range of bespoke "Slate Top Tables" which are now available. Magnificent slabs of beautifully honed and polished slate sitting securely upon a hand built table base designed to your specification and needs. There are so many options to choose from! Take a look at the website www.slatetoptables.com and see how one of these unique tables could complement and improve your home or garden.

Proprietor David Steele commented that despite a worldwide customer base requiring delivery to all sorts of exotic destinations this generous offer is not available on the website and is aimed solely at local customers; we hope to see a lot of new interest as a result of this one off discount offer and welcome every new enquiry.

Open weekend at Axe Cliff Golf Club

AXE Cliff Golf Club has gone through several changes since New Owner Peter Crosby took over in December Last Year.

He Says – “Since taking over we have made many changes that improve the facilities of the club that are available to both members and non-members. Anyone is welcome to come and use the club whilst taking in the extensive breath taking views of the Jurassic Coast. With the Jurassic Coastal Walk going directly through the course, walkers are welcome to stop off and use the facilities to stock up on their energy.

Open all day, food is available including an all day Full English Breakfast, Langleigh Farm Ice Cream, Devon Cream Tea, Sunday Roast etc.

We are looking to expand our playing membership in particular our Junior Section. Golf is a great sport that the current TV advertising is promoting a “Sport for Life”. Golf is a great chance to meet new people not only to play the game and to keep fit, but also to socialise in the many social evenings we hold. Axe Cliff Golf & Country Club are inviting all, this weekend, to an Open Weekend for anyone wishing to come and see what have to offer. A complimentary Tea or Coffee awaits you!”

Pippa Greenwood to give talk at Forde Abbey

RENOWNED for her infectious passion for plants and home-grown produce, celebrity gardener and best-selling author Pippa Greenwood is coming to Forde Abbey on Sunday, July 1st to give a talk entitled “Grow Great Veg.”

Pippa Greenwood has been a familiar face on television for many years.

Pippa started her media career with Alan Titchmarsh on the gardening slot for BBC1's Daytime Live programme in 1988. For over 13 years she appeared regularly on BBC2's Gardener's World, presenting many items on garden pests and diseases, science and gardening, as well as creating and running an organic kitchen garden. Pippa has also appeared on many radio shows and other television shows. She writes regular features in many well known gardening magazines. Pippa lives in Hampshire on a windswept hillside with strongly alkaline heavy clay soils.

With this weird and wonderful weather we're having, Pippa is sure to be asked some searching questions after her talk. For tickets to Pippa Greenwood's talk, priced at £7 for RHS members and £9 for Non-RHS members, please call Forde Abbey on 01460 220231. The talk starts at 6.30pm and there will be plenty of time to ask questions, chat to Pippa and maybe have a book signed afterwards.

MEET THE COMPANY!

SEASON Tickets have recently gone on sale for the 26th Charles & Imogen Summer Play Festival at the Manor Pavilion.

This season has been hotly anticipated – so much so, that on Friday, June 1st queues formed at 7.30am in order to get the best seats at the best prices. The festival also attracts visitors from all over the country to Sidmouth each summer to enjoy one of the UK's only remaining weekly repertory company and the phones and email have been busy with enquiries and sales from far and wide.

This season features a wonderful line-up of productions and bringing them to life on stage will be directors Imogen Vance, Pat Brackenbury, Vernon Thompson and Su Gilroy. All four directors have years of Sidmouth seasons behind them and they, together with Jane Bennett who returns to direct again this year, are dedicated to bringing you the great theatre to which Summer Play Festival audiences have become accustomed.

Audiences will be transported by the inspired scenic designs of Robert Sherwood, who has been designing for Charles Vance since the early 1970s. Robert's sets will be illuminated by lighting designer Tony Hill who has been a part of the company for 15 seasons, and Tricia Barclay is back for her ninth season.

Making their Sidmouth debut this year are actors Paul Giles, Alec Gray, Sarah Griffin, Rhys Lawton and Annabel Pemberton.

Paul Giles began his acting career at an early age and worked in theatre and TV prior to attending Brunel University to read Modern Drama Studies. He is a member of a new theatre company Skin of Our Teeth and has appeared in the feature film The Addicted. Born in England, Alec Gray spent his formative years in Canada and trained at the American Academy of Dramatic Art in New York. Stage credits include Estragon in Waiting for Godot, Norman in The Dresser, and Flute in A Midsummer Night's Dream, among others and film credits include At Apollinaire's Grave and Deadly Eyes. Sarah Griffin is an American actress based in London following her MA at the Central School of Speech and Drama. Favourite performances include Antipholus of Syracuse in The Comedy of Errors, Pandora in The Winning Crowd and Mitsy Ferngarden in Future Cinema Presents: Buggy Malone. Rhys Lawton graduated from East 15 Acting School in 2008 and has appeared on stage, film and inside computers since then. Recent stage appearances include Covielle in a modern adaptation of Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme at Upstairs at the Gatehouse and Pip in the tour of Threadbare Greebo. Prior to her theatrical career, Annabel Pemberton was in the corporate world in London, Mexico and Australia. She is a graduate of Rose Bruford College. Stage credits include The Wild Goose Chase, Julius Caesar and The Comedy of Errors.

Familiar faces returning this season are Jane Bennett, Laura James, James Pellow and Leigh Steedman

Jane Bennett lives in Devon and is regular member of the Charles Vance Company. She first worked for Charles in his repertory company in Folkestone. In between these two stints of rep Jane has appeared in the West End, on tour and on television. She also writes, directs, produces and runs drama workshops for children and adults. Laura James returns for her second season. Over the past year, Laura has been filming a lead role in the feature film Shattered Summer. James Pellow returns for his 9th season and now considers Sidmouth his summer home. This is Leigh Steedman's fourth season with the Summer Play Festival having appeared in previous productions such as Rebecca, Absurd Person Singular and Night Must Fall. He has been a part of the Summer Play Festival since 2009. A Sidmouth native, Leigh trained at the Rep College and has appeared both on stage and screen.

Making special guest appearances this season are Janette Froud who has been with the company since 2002, Kirsty Cox, a member of the 2009 and 2010 companies, and radio personality Douglas Mounce.

This season promises to be one to remember! Don't miss a moment of it! Book your tickets today!

Tickets are now on sale at the Box Office at the Manor Pavilion Theatre, Manor Road, Sidmouth. Phone: 01395 57 99 77

Highly respected singer-guitarist to play next Jurassic Folk Guest Night

JURASSIC Folk's next Guest Night on July 4th features Paul Downes, one of the most respected artists on the British folk scene today.

He has been introduced (much to his embarrassment) as one of the greatest acoustic guitarists in the world. It is easy to see why when you see the dazzling array of styles he performs with effortless brilliance, but at the same time he considers himself as a singer of songs, rather than a guitar technician.

Paul has a rich musical background that has progressed through working with Phil Beer, The Arizona Smoke Revue, Pete Seeger and, currently, The Joyce Gang. Eight albums with bands, three highly acclaimed solo albums and over one hundred and fifty session credits have still left time for Paul to tour every concert venue, theatre and festival in Britain, plus many tours in the USA and Europe. Cabaret in the West Indies and newsreading on US radio are but two other strings to his guitar, and he has also developed into a very fine actor in the recent folk plays that he has appeared in.

The supporting acts on the night are Bob Kirkpatrick from Broadmayne in Dorset, and our very own Bard of Seaton, Ted Dowse, both of which Paul says he'd be happy to pay money himself to see any time. So a fabulous evening is assured. It all happens at the Grove, Seaton, and the doors are open at 7.45pm. Advance tickets at £5 are available on the website www.eastdevonfolk.org or by phoning 01297 20064.

The Eyre Court Hotel, Seaton

GARY and Rachel Daniel took ownership of the Eyre Court Hotel just over a year ago and have built up a good reputation for providing excellent food at reasonable prices. Shaun Llewellyn has been with them since they took over, being promoted to Head Chef last August.

Shaun is a self-taught Chef with 11 years' experience. As a keen fisherman himself, he particularly enjoys cooking fresh locally caught fish and his home-made desserts are always very well appreciated. He also specialises in special occasion cakes including the Helicopter cake he made for the Devon Air Ambulance Coffee Morning in March.

"Shaun is passionate about food and produces consistent high quality dishes. We are very please with the positive feedback we receive from customers. We are launching a new menu for the summer with lots of classic favourites together with some new exciting dishes".

The White Hart, Wilmington

THE White Hart, Wilmington is a traditional style thatched Devon inn on the busy A35 just outside Honiton. You can always be sure of a warm welcome here. The pub burned down in 2004 but was sympathetically rebuilt in 2005, the only original part remaining is the inglenook in poachers; you can still see the soot marks from the fire. Now our two resident greyhounds sleep on their twin sofas in the fire place and we welcome other dogs in the bar and restaurant! Steve our chef has been cooking for 20 years in various establishments in Devon in many different ways from tapas to traditional pub cooking. He has designed a core menu for lunch and an evening menu which is complemented by the specials board which changes daily. We source all our food supplies from the south west, supporting locally where possible. If you have visitors we have 3 well appointed letting rooms this comes with a bumper breakfast! We run a series of events throughout the year check out our facebook page for updates!

The White Hart

The White Hart is a traditional style real Devon pub serving real Devon food and drink, we serve fresh food cooked to order using local suppliers.

A warm welcome is guaranteed! We try to be part of the community by being open all day and serving food all day.

We have a number of events that run every month please visit our website for further details

The Bay Hotel, Lyme Regis

I HAVE lived in Lyme Regis for over 20 years and could not think of a nicer place on the Jurassic Coast to be.

I feel extremely privileged to be living in this part of the country within a thriving community of farmers, fisherman, suppliers and small holders who provide me with an abundance of produce from fruit to fish right on my doorstep.

For the last 3 years I have worked for the Celebrity Chef and Patron, Mark Hix at his Oyster and Fish House having learnt my trade in local restaurants in and around Lyme Regis and London.

I have a great passion for food and through 'The Bay Leaf' I hope to incorporate as much fresh, locally sourced ingredients as possible to my contemporary take on English cooking. As such the menu will reflect seasonal changes as well as availability of ingredients

If you have any special dietary requirements or questions about the menu please feel free to ask my team and we will endeavour to accommodate you."

Wheelwright Inn, Colyford

MARK Blaise Barton has developed his career internationally. Mark has landed back in the UK after working in Sidart Auckland - New Zealand. Prior to this Mark's career development has been in Australia. Prior to traveling Mark has worked in London at Galvin & Windows a 1 Michelin Star restaurant also The Capital in Knightsbridge with Eric Chavot a 2 Michelin Star boutique hotel. On our first meeting Mark told me that his inspiration and motivation has come from working alongside Eric Chavot at The Capital in Knightsbridge and traveling the world absorbing all the different countries cuisines. "understanding flavors, the importance of a balance of ingredients and not over compensating the dishes" are just a few of his wise words. Mark also said "it is not location location location but local local local ingredients that will make The Wheelwright yet again a top pub restaurant in Devon, cooking fantastic food".

Seaton agent recognised as a property professional of excellence!

LOUISA Merritt has successfully passed an NFOPP Technical award in Residential Letting and Property Management. This well-respected Award is not only a nationally recognised industry qualification but is also an entry requirement of the Association of Residential Letting Agents (ARLA) – the only professional, self-regulating body specialising in raising and maintaining practice standards in the UK private rental sector.

Louisa has been working as a Senior Negotiator in the Seaton area for 3 years. Previously she worked for SW Property Services for 4 years before taking a break to have family and more recently owning her own retail business. Having lived in Seaton all her life, Louisa has an excellent knowledge of the town and its properties.

Louisa said "I am thrilled the hard work has paid off and I have secured the Technical Award. For me, it is not only a personal achievement but evidence of our professionalism as an agency, showing our clients that they are dealing with someone who is knowledgeable and who they can trust to do a good job."

Nicola Spurgeon, Office Manager and Lynn Richardson who work alongside Louisa at FSB Rentals Ltd said "We could not be more proud of Louisa's achievement. We strongly believe Seaton landlords and tenants will vote with their feet in support of an agency that is staffed by hard-working property professionals of intelligence and integrity like our Louisa.

BEER – GUIDE PRICE OF £650,000

A SUBSTANTIAL AND CAREFULLY MAINTAINED DETACHED CHALET BUNGALOW (1925) QUIETLY TUCKED AWAY AND FEATURING SPECTACULAR VIEWS OF THE BEACH AND LYME BAY

'Upalong' is an individual detached bungalow which we understood was built in 1925 by a highly regarded local builder with rendered cavity walls beneath a clay tiled roof. Subsequently the loft was converted to an excellent Master Bedroom with shower and w.c. and in about 2006 a new kitchen extension was constructed. The property offers light and bright accommodation which has been maintained to a high standard and takes full advantage of the views.

The location, tucked away at the far end of a private road-way, is one of the finest in Beer with spectacular views taking in the beach and the unspoilt Devon/Dorset coast as far as Portland. there is also a far reaching outlook across the village.

Viewing is strictly by appointment with the vendor's agents, Martin Diplock Estate Agents & Valuers, 36 Broad Street, Lyme Regis on (01297) 445500.

From small acorns to delightful oak tree

FULFORDS in Budleigh Salterton together with Country-wide Land & New Homes are delighted to be marketing the brand new Oak Tree development in Budleigh, in conjunction with local Developer G B House & Son Ltd.

Oak Tree is a superb collection of just five 2 & 3 bedroom semi detached and terraced properties, centred around a truly magnificent oak tree from which it naturally takes its name. Conveniently situated in a popular residential location, this select development is within easy reach of the seafront & town centre whilst the local store and primary school are within walking distance.

With the development now complete, each of these fine homes are now ready for occupation. So, why not be one of the first to view at our Open House on Saturday 30th June from 11am – 1pm.

Built to a high standard, each cottage style home has a contemporary kitchen with a range of integrated appliances, reception room and cloakroom. The 3 bedroom terrace houses also have en-suite facilities to the master bedroom. Outside are south facing rear gardens and private parking. Each benefits from an Architects Certificate.

Prices start from £215,000. For further details and to book your viewing call Fulfords Budleigh Salterton Office on 01395 443758 or e-mail budleigh@fulfords.co.uk

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE

Lindy Parry Chiropodist / Podiatrist

I have been running my private chiropody / podiatry clinics at Townsend House Surgery for over 3 years and due to demand I have recently increased my days, now holding clinics on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

I offer a range of treatments from a simple nail cut to nail surgery, and each treatment plan is priced accordingly.

The nail cutting only service is a shorter appointment and is ideal for those that don't have any other foot care needs. Others like to alternate nail cuts with chiropody treatments as it best suits their requirements. I always aim to work with the patient to find the best treatment plan to suit each individual. Patients feet are then monitored during treatment so that changes can be made should the need arise.

Diabetic patients who attend for chiropody will also have a diabetic foot assessment carried out during their first treatment, and will then be monitored and re-assessed as necessary. My chiropody clinics are available to anybody seeking help with their feet and Townsend House and I look forward to welcoming you.

Bookings can be made by calling 01297 22956.

CARING FOR THE ELDERLY

Glory Days

AU-PAIRS for the elderly

Are you elderly, living alone, needing a helping hand?
Have you considered employing a live in au-pair?

Perhaps you thought Au-pairs are exclusively for children
Au-pairs are also suitable for helping elderly couples or singles.
Hundreds of active pensioners in need of companion/carers live happily with an Au-pair.
The Au-pair becomes a family member, they help in everyday life, so you can continue in your usual lives.
At night you're not alone, you live in your own home, day time an Au-pair can provide company.
An Au-pair can help with, light house work, washing, ironing, cooking, tidying, shopping, car driving and pet care.
Sadly an Au-pair is not a nurse and should not be required for medical purposes.
The Au-pair movement exists to arrange accommodation for young people from abroad.
Salary is paid weekly as "pocket money"
They will be provided with their own room, lighting, heating, food and friendship, in return for brightening the daily lives of lonely people who need reliable help and companionship.

Taking Off The Pressure!

THIS should now be a good time to get your driving out of the way. Your exams coming to an end more free time and hopefully more relaxed. Your complete full driving licence should be the icing on the cake!

And of course essential to your future prospects gaining your freedom and independence is a wonderful thing.

Learning to drive safely for life need not be over expensive with a good top grade instructor because you will need less lessons (not quantity but quality). And learning to drive correctly can be fun and rewarding, so why not give me a ring, have fun, save money, and become a good safe driver, that's my aim and is should be yours as well.

By the way you will be driving the latest Clio TomTom (so easy to drive).

Millions more Britons will take a holiday this summer

MILLIONS more Britons will take a summer holiday this year to get away from the miserable weather, sports overload and a second year without one, new figures suggest. And it could provide a welcome boost to the nation's hard hit holiday industry who are struggling to fill spaces on planes and rooms in hotels.

Last year more than one in four (26 per cent) chose not to go away during the summer, hoping for a bit of sun at home instead and to save cash.

But this year that figure has fallen to just one in five (21 per cent) said the survey by satnav firm TomTom.

And many more are jetting off during June and July this year, suggesting the reason may be to avoid the big national occasions.

Almost as many (21 per cent) are taking their holidays in June and July as August (22 per cent) said the poll.

But last year only 17 per cent went away in June, 18 per cent in July while August was easily the most popular month with 24 per cent, TomTom's figures reveal.

It marks a change in attitude among cash-strapped Britons with almost a third (31 per cent) looking for sunshine and 42 per cent who say they just want to 'relax'.

And only 22 per cent have chosen the cheapest option for their break, suggesting the end of the big 'staycation' revolution and a return to sun, sea and sand abroad.

Spain, including Majorca and the other islands, remains the most popular single destination and the Euro crisis has not put people off going to other sunspots on the continent.

Almost seven in ten (69 per cent) admit their summer holiday is 'important' to them.

If money were no object, 38 per cent of all UK adults would go to a tropical paradise island and 14 per cent would choose a cruise.

TomTom's research also found almost one in five (18 per cent) will be renting a car on their holidays, although only a third (34 per cent) claim never to have got lost.

A spokesman for TomTom said: "Every cloud has a silver lining - in this case literally because the weather has been so awful it has persuaded many to go on holiday."

"Money is tight but enough is enough and a lot of those who gave up their summer holidays last year and ended up in British drizzle are not prepared to do the same this year, it seems."

"We hope everyone has a great time but be careful not to get lost in a strange country if you are hiring a car. That's where we come in."

The findings come as TomTom launches a competition to create road maps of tropical islands like Fiji, St. Lucia, Mauritius, Cape Verde and the Seychelles and to pay the winners £10,000 for doing so.

Just fill in the form at www.tomtom.com/summer

No mapping experience is needed, but TomTom is looking for people with a decent sense of direction who enjoy exploring beautiful places.

Major improvements for new Kia Sorento

- New chassis amongst the significant changes to Sorento
- Fresh, new look exterior with LED lights and 19-inch alloy wheels
- Extensive range of new convenience and safety technologies
- UK specification details to be released in the autumn

KIA'S hugely successful Sorento SUV will receive a host of significant improvements when the new upgraded model goes on sale later this year. Significant changes include a re-engineered bodyshell, enhanced powertrains for best-in-class fuel economy with lower emissions, improved ride, handling and refinement, additional convenience and safety features, plus a fresh, new look for the exterior.

"Since its introduction in 2009, the second-generation Kia Sorento has achieved more than 620,000 sales around the world. Today, it is manufactured in Korea and the USA, attracting over 130,000 U.S. customers last year to rank as the best-selling Kia model in the States for the second year in a row," commented Thomas Oh, Kia's Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of the International Business Division. "We have given very careful attention to owners' feedback, and the upgraded Sorento is not just a cosmetic exercise but a major step forward for our popular SUV."

Kia's designers have created new headlamps with LED positioning lights, a new tailgate with LED rear combination lamps, new bumpers (front and rear) with vertical-axis fog lights and a larger area of body-color surface, and an expanded choice of wheels to include larger diameter (19-inch) alloys - depending on market.

Inside the five- or seven-seater cabin, there are more soft-touch surfaces plus a new LCD instrument cluster, new center stack with 7-inch display screen, and a new console featuring a straight-gate selector with a leather-booted lever on automatic transmission models - reinforcing the vehicle's more luxurious character. Offered in black or beige cloth or leather, the interior can be bathed in natural light through a larger panoramic sunroof (depending on version) with no centre cross beam and a powered blind.

New Sorento is due to arrive in the UK in the autumn and full details of UK specification and trim will be available in due course.

B DIVISION

Axminster v Alphington

AXMINSTER 1st team played against Alphington at Cloakham and for the fourth week on the trot Paul Miller won the toss and asked the opposition to bat first.

Dan Fuzzard got into the wickets in the first over, claiming the opening batsmen with an inside edge which was sharply taken by Bradley Cross.

Matthew Pile bowled Alphington's overseas player with a beautiful yorker soon after.

N.Ainscough for Alphington rode his luck throughout his entire innings scoring 107 not out and with captain Paul James (52) sent Alphington to 248 for 7 wickets.

Bowling figures included D.Fuzzard 2-48 off 7, M.Pile 1-43 off 10 and Tristan Wakeley 2-12 off 2.4 overs.

In reply Axminster got off to a good start scoring over five an over, but Ryan Walker was bowled and Paul Miller soon followed.

This brought Tristan Wakeley to the crease and, with Dan still batting well, added 96 for the third wicket.

With Axminster looking good to knock off the remaining runs, disaster struck when Tristan was out lbw for 63. After this Matthew Pile and Ben Libby were out within the space of three balls, bringing N.Taylor to the crease.

Dan and Nick stayed at the crease for the remaining overs bringing Axminster to the 200 run mark, ensuring the losing draw and the five batting points.

Axminster finished 210 for 5 with Dan unbeaten on 63 and Nick on 24 not out. Axminster claimed 10 points and Alphington 13.

2ND XI C DIVISION

Honiton v Kingskerswell

HONITON's skipper Andrew Lapping, on winning the toss, decided to put the home team under pressure by bowling first on a damp pitch.

The openers negotiated bursts from Andy Brinsford and Jake Pulman without undue difficulty, but the runs only came in dribs and drabs.

It wasn't until the 19th over that a change in bowling finally saw the first wicket as Craig Lapping got one to dribble backwards onto the stumps, but 67-1 was still a remarkably good start for the Kingsmen given the conditions.

Opener Chris Davis went past a well crafted 50 before Andy Canniford picked up his fourth victim to finish with 4 for 36.

Hill finally got a look in, with 2 for 25 and Andy Brinsford returned to bag some bunnies and finish with 3 for 23 and the Kingsmen had gone from 67-0 to 153 all out.

Honiton's reply got of to a poor start with the top three batsmen back in the clubhouse with barely 20 runs on the board.

Crisis time again. And what better men for a crisis than Craig and Andrew Lapping? The pair looked in control for a while before C Lapping aimed a big one towards long on and found himself heading home for only 5.

A Lapping, meanwhile, made (more) hay as the sun ceased to shine and the, now customary, daily dose of drizzle started as Honiton sibsided to 48-6.

Andrew Lapping found the fence, but when he went for what would comfortably transpire to be the top score (42, featuring three 6s and three 4s) it was hard pressed to see Honiton up for the win and Honiton finished cold, wet and soggy at 88 all out.

Honiton's captain called on his batsmen to put a higher price on their wickets to avoid slipping into a relegation scrap.

Andrew said: "Some of the shot choices - including my own - gifted them to many of our wickets and it's not for the first time this year.

"We may not be having much luck so far this season so we are going to have to make our own luck to turn things around. We have the players to do it they just need to up there game"

SOMERSET CRICKET LEAGUE

DIVISION EIGHT (S)

All Saints v Taunton Deane

A BITTERLY disappointing fielding performance let All Saints down against a side they felt they should have beaten.

After crucially losing the toss, All Saints battled to 134-7 with Mike Nunn top scoring on 65.

Saints would have felt confident defending the total given the conditions, however five clear chances were dropped in an abject fielding performance, and the lack of pressure allowed Taunton Deane Crusaders to cruise to victory with seven overs to spare.

ON THE SPOT...

Q How long have you been involved in the local cricket scene? Who have you played for?

A I have been playing cricket since I was seven years old at Seaton as a colt, and have played for the club ever since.

Q Name the three best players you played alongside so far and why.

A Mike Cottam - great all-rounder with vast experience who's widely respected around the county. Ben Coombes - an Aussie spin bowler and top order batsman who made it into the Premier's League representative side. Richard Arbuthnot - a/k/a 'boff' - a player who would literally put his body on the line when fielding.

Q What's the best away ground you've played on?

A Exeter Civil Service's Foxhayes Ground as it is always a great batting track where we've always hit high scores for the loss of just a few wickets.

Q Do any games stick in your memory?

A The first game of the current season is one I'll remember for a long time. We ended up losing a match we should have won, by losing our last wicket on the very last ball of the game, falling three runs short!

Q How would you improve things at Seaton CC?

A Well the youth set-up and facilities are of a decent standard for a club our size, so I'll have to go with improving some of the senior players' music taste as they don't approve of the pre/post-match music. And also not forgetting the third shower - as it hasn't worked for the past two years!

Q What is your top score/best bowling performance?

A My best batting score is 85, and as I'm a wicket keeper (or attempt to be), I don't get the chance to bowl.

Q Name some young players we should look out for in the future.

A Reid Mawdsley - currently scoring centuries in the Devon U15 side, and already a pretty solid 1st team player. Niall Waterhouse - a colt player getting some high scores in our 2nd team. Tim Mitchell - a bright prospect, close to being a good county level all rounder.

SEATON BOWLS CLUB
with Linda Stone

THE week started with a friendly match against Pelham Bowling Club from Bournemouth. Four rinks and two triples played on a lovely Sunday afternoon. Seaton won 133-94; our top rink was L. Hurley-Smith, T. Johnson, P. Whitworth and I. Steer. They won 33-14.

Our next match was against Donyatt. This was changed from rinks to triples as Donyatt were short of players, but a really enjoyable game ensued, Seaton winning 80-63. Our top triple was R. Sykes, R. Holding and J. Russell.

On Wednesday the ladies played a re-arranged game in the Ladies Over 50s league against Shaldon. The result was a win for Seaton, gaining six points, winning both triples and overall. The score was 37-21.

Thursday saw the rain returning and our match against Budleigh Salterton was cancelled. However, on Friday the clouds disappeared again and the ladies played another Over 50s league game.

Crediton 'Green' gave us a real fight, but we eventually won one triple by four shots and lost the other by three, giving us the overall win by just one shot and gaining four points.

FENITON BOWLS CLUB
with Roger Smith

THE men's team continued its return to form in the County Trophy with a win against local rivals Honiton by 94-62 to score eight points. The two winning rinks were both at Honiton: R Cooke, E Cox, D Evans and K Lovering 31-13 and G Phillips, A Evans, Ro Clarke and R Smith, 28-11.

The men's over 60s 'A' team lost a close match against Tiverton A by 32-33, gaining just one point for a drawn rink. The 'B' team defeated Madeira D by 39-35. The winning rink was G Phillips, L Ley and Ro Clarke 17-8.

The mixed team had a good victory away at Heavitree winning by 97-83. The winning rinks were E Goode-nough, G Skinner, A Coyne and R North 23-12, S Goode-nough, J Skinner, G Smith and R Cooke 21-14, N Cox, D Sanders, D Evans and L Ley 25-19 and D Phillips, L Crook, A Smith and J O'Sullivan 22-19.

■ HONITON Netball Club's Under 12 and Under 14 teams recently went to the Exeter and District Summer Open Tournament, competing against other clubs from across Devon.

Both teams performed well winning all but one of their matches and both finishing runners-up in their age groups - a fitting end to a season that has seen them continue to improve.

The club are holding a free taster session for Year Six girls on Wednesday, June 27th from 7-8pm at Honiton Primary School.

The club welcomes new members from school years 7 to 11 at any time.

For more information please contact Jenny Kelly by emailing jknnetball@tiscali.co.uk or calling 01404 47103.

Local swimmers in regional champs

SIX young Chard & District Swimming Club swimmers qualified to compete at this year's ASA South West Regional Junior Age Group Championships for 14 years and under swimmers, held over two weekends at Millfield School, WRITES HANNAH PULLINGER.

To compete at this level swimmers need to have previously achieved the necessary qualifying times for their age, allowing them to race against the best swimmers in the South West of England. Three of the swimmers achieved qualifying times for the first time to swim at these Championships - all in the 100m Backstroke event: Oliver Bilbie 14, Susan Ross 12, and Lewis Pearson 12.

All swam personal bests in their events. Melissa Hanson, 14, has gained qualifying times for the last two years and also swam the 100m Backstroke this year, achieving a personal best time.

Jamie Pullinger, 13, has competed at the Regional Championship over the last four years and this year swam in both the 100m and 200m Backstroke gaining good personal best times, including an eight second personal best in the 200m event.

Elisha Hawkins, 12, was swimming in her third Regional Championship and this year swam in 100m and 200m Breaststroke, 400m and 200m Individual Medley.

Elisha reached the finals of both Breaststroke events with a three-second personal best time in each, coming sixth in the 100m and winning a bronze medal with third in the 200m event, narrowly missing out on National Qualifying times in both.

● Chard Swimming Club are always looking for new members at all levels, and have recently started a 'learn-to-swim' class allowing younger children to join the Club. If you would like to find out more or arrange a free trial please visit our web-site at www.chardswimming.org

Rugby honour for Colyton's John

A LEAVER'S service and annual prize giving left many with smiles on their faces and tears in their eyes in equal measure at Brymore School, a unique state boarding school in Somerset.

All of the Year 12s were presented with the Brymore 'spur' cufflinks and the Year 11's were given Brymore wallets.

Individual and team successes were acknowledged throughout the ceremony with the school cricket, hockey and rugby teams all receiving a nod to their achievements throughout their time at the school.

The All Blacks Jersey, a prestigious individual award, was presented to Colyton boy John Hurford for his achievements and successes in the senior rugby team.

athletics half-ironman Good results for local duo

ON Sunday, June 17th 2000 people descended on Wimbleball Lake on Exmoor to take part in the UK70.3 Half Ironman.

This race has been described as the toughest of its distance in the world, and this year it definitely lived up to the expectation. After a week of heavy rain and wind, Wimbleball Lake was very high, meaning the water was very cold, 14 degrees to be precise!

The bike course of 56 miles including 54 hills speaks for itself and the Multi Terrain Half-marathon run course was very wet and boggy in places, making it even tougher than usual.

Richard Easton had a fantastic race, with 26:06 for the swim, coming out of the water 12th overall!

He then stormed around the bike course in 2:56:23 giving some of the Pros a good race. Easton then ran 1:39:23 for the half-marathon, but due to leg cramps, had to dig extremely deep finishing 63rd overall in 5.07.33.

Luke Reed had a very good swim completing the 1.2 miles in 31:20. Then onto the bike feeling very cold from the swim, he had a tough time, but was very pleased to complete the 56 miles in 3:14:06.

At this point the run was all about just trying to get around the half-marathon course, which Reed did in 1:43:40, giving him an overall time of 5:37:17 and an excellent 197th place out of around 2000 finishers.

Tigers set to boost youth set-up

Under 18s launched

AXMINSTER Town Football Club are in the process of extending their youth section.

The Tigers had just one established youth side last season but have plans in place to increase this to four.

Club chairman Ray Self alongside youth development officer Micky Walsh will be running an under 18s team that will be playing friendly floodlit matches on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Self said: "Micky has contacts within the local football scene that we hope will allow us to play against the academy teams from the likes of Torquay United and Tiverton Town.

"As we are only playing friendlies under 18 players from any of the local Saturday teams can get involved.

"Anybody interested can call me on 07747 488111 for more details.

In addition ex-reserve team manager Mike Walton will be overseeing the under five, under 12 and under 16 teams.

Walton said: "The under fives will only be training and maybe playing the odd friendly. Training sessions will take place at Sector

Lane on Sundays at 10am.

"With the under 12s we've gained some players from Perry Street who didn't have enough for a team of their own – we hope to enter this team, which will train on Wednesdays at 6.15pm, in the East Devon League.

"Finally the under 16 will also be entered in the East Devon League. These lads will be training on Thursdays at 6.15pm.

"In addition to the under 18s we still need players for each of the three younger groups. Anybody interested in the under fives, 12s or 16s should contact me on 07730 790422."
